

Safari as one of new products in the family of Butane products was offered for quick and easy cooking purposes and as a portable power source for providing lighting, heating and other uses outdoors. This portable product meets various tastes with a beautiful design in various colors and having a handle and a durable plastic base. It can also be connected to various LPG consumer devices with the help of a regulator.

Click here for more information